Editorial:

Dear Colleagues,

I have a great pleasure to present our latest volume of Egyptian Journal Archaeological and Restoration Studies (EJARS) which, is published biannually by Sohag University Publishing Center (SUPC) under ISSN (Print: 2090-4932 / Online: 2090-4940). EJARS is international periodical specialized in archaeological and restoration studies. It is an open-access, peer-reviewed journal featuring high-quality studies which provide historical, experimental and applied up-to-date insights into the fields of archaeology, materials deterioration, materials diagnosis, and materials treatment. EJARS collaborates with many distinguished scholars who form our editorial to ensure the highest standards of selection and review. All relevant papers are carefully considered. Once accepted, papers are published both online and in print. Finally, I hope to see more researches participating to our next volume. For 2018, Volume 8 (issue 2) is scheduled for publication. Subscription prices are available upon request from the Publisher of the journal (SUPC) or via the following e-mails:
